CHAPTER XVI.

"A YE, it's as I thought," he remarked, returning the glass after a long gaze; "that's the Radnor, curse her!"

"The Radnor, mate? Are you quite sure?"

"Hos'n, does a man live in a hell like that for a year and a half and forget how it looks? I'd know her among a thousand ships!"

"What's that you say, my man?" eagerly asked Seymour, stopping suddenly, having caught some part of the conversation as he was passing by.

"Why, that 'ere ship is the Radnor, sir."

Talbot and his men were busy with the gun aft; no one heard but Seymour and Bentley.

"The Radnor! How do you know it, man?"

"I served aboard her for eighteen months, sir. I know every line of her. That there spliced fore shroud, the patch in the mainsail, I put it on myself. Besides, I know her—I don't know how—but know her I do, every stick in her. Curse her—saying your honor's presence—I'm not likely to forget her! I was whipped at the grating till I was nearly dead just for standing up for this country on board of her, and me a free-born American too! I've got her sign manual on my back and her picture here, and I'd give all the rest of my life to see her smashed and sunk and feel that I'd had some hand in the doing of it. Aye, I know her! Could a man ever forget her?" continued the seaman, turning away, white with passion and shaking his fist in convulsive rage at the frigate, which made a handsome picture in spite of all. Seymour's face was as white as Thompson's was.

"The Radnor! The Radnor! Why, that's the ship Miss Wilton is on. Oh, Bentley, what can be done now?" he said, the whole situation rising before him. "If we lead that ship before the pass it means wreck for her. Dacres, who commands the Radnor, is a new man on this station, and if we don't try the pass this ship is captured and our country, our cause, receives a fatal blow! Was ever a man in such a situation before?"

Bentley looked at him with eyes full of pity. "We are approaching the shoal now, sir, and unless we would be on it we will have to bring the ship by the wind at once."

This, at least, was a respite. Seymour glanced ahead and at once gave the necessary orders. When the course was altered it became necessary to take in the fore and main topgallant sails on account of the wind, now blowing a half gale and steadily rising. The speed of the ship, therefore, was unfortunately sensibly diminished, and she was soon pitching and heaving on the starboard tack, much to the astonishment of Talbot and the crew, who were ignorant of the existence of the shoal, and the latter of whom could see no necessity for the dangerous alteration in the course. They, however, of course, said nothing, and Talbot, whose ignorance of seamanship did not qualify him to decide difficult questions, after a glance at Seymour's stern, pale face decided to ask nothing about it.

This present course being at right angles to that of their pursuer, whom neither Seymour nor Bentley doubted to be the Radnor, would speedily bring the two ships together. They had gained a small but precious advantage, however, as the frigate, apparently as much surprised by the unexpected maneuver as their own men, had allowed some moments to elapse before her helm was shifted and the wind brought on the other quarter. The courses of the two ships now intersected at an angle of perhaps seventy degrees, which would bring them together in a short time.

The people on the Mellish could plainly hear the drums of the frigate, now almost in range, beating to quarters. They were near enough to count the gun ports—it was indeed a heavy frigate—thirty-six; just the rating of the Radnor. Talbot had made ready his fieldpiece, and in a moment the heavy boom of the gun echoed over the waters. The shot fell a little short, but was in good line. Much encouraged, the men hastened to load the piece again, while the Mellish crept along, all too slowly for the eager anxiety of her crew, toward the mouth of the channel, of which most of them, however, knew nothing. The frigate, partly because in order to bring a gun to bear on the chase it would have to luff up into the wind and thus lose valuable distance, and also because the rapidity with which the Mellish was being overhauled rendered it unnecessary, had hitherto refrained from using its batteries. The chances of escape under the present conditions were about even had it not been for the complication introduced by the presence of Katharine and her father upon the frigate.

Seymour was in a painful and frightful state of indecision. What should he do? The dilemma forced upon him was one of those which Katharine had foreseen, and of which they had talked together. He, apparently, must decide between his love and his country. If he held on when he reached the mouth of the channel and passed it by, the capture of the ship was absolutely inevitable. If he went through the channel and enticed the English ship after him, the death of his sweetheart was likewise apparently inevitable.

Chasing with the determination shown by the English captain, who had his topgallant sails still set, and with the little warning he would have of the existence of the shoal, owing to the rapid closing of the day, the frigate would have to attempt the channel and in that way for that ship lay destruction.

Save Katharine, lose the ship. Save the ship, lose Katharine. Love or duty—should it be? The man was attacked in the two most powerful sources of human action. He saw on one side Katharine tossed about by the merciless waves, white faced with terror, and stretching out her hands to him in piteous appeal from that angry sea in the horror of darkness and death. And every voice which spoke

PRESIDENT THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Theodore Roosevelt
A STUDY OF THE MAN

"He has meant every word he said and the people have believed every word he said, and with him this convention agrees because every word has been sound Republican doctrine." When Chairman Root uttered these words at the opening of the Chicago convention he included and suggested many of the facts that nominated Theodore Roosevelt for president long before the delegates met at Chicago to hold a national convention.

"He has meant every word he said." This one quality has characterized the utterances of Theodore Roosevelt ever since he first entered public life, and that was years ago, for the ink was scarcely dry on his college diploma until he had been given preference by his fellow citizens. And it is reasonable to suppose that this knowledge of the man was one of the things that contributed to his success at the outset.

"He has meant every word he said." The people knew that they could safely depend upon him. He would not deceive them. The individual and the world like a man when they know they can "put a finger on him." Given this one quality and there are others of a similar nature that go to make the desirable friend, the trustworthy business man, the useful citizen, the competent office-holder, and the foundation stone of a useful career has been deeply laid. But let a man lack this one quality and there is no other—no combination of other qualities—to serve as a satisfactory substitute for it.

For this includes strength and the determination to use this strength. Still more, it means determination to use this strength for the right, for otherwise, however lofty his purposes, he could not be depended upon to crystallize them into achievement.

to the human heart was eloquent on her. And then on the other side there stood those grim and frozen ranks, those gaunt, hungry, naked men. They, too, stretched out hands to him. "Give us arms, give us raiment," they seemed to say. "You had the opportunity and you threw it away for love. What's love to liberty?"

And every incentive which awakens the soul of honor in men appealed to him then. Behind him stood the destinies of a great people, the fate of a great cause. On him they trusted, upon his honor they had depended, and before him stood a woman. He saw her

"The people have believed every word he said, continues the chairman of the convention. Why? Because they have come to know him. They not only believe but they feel that he is sincere. And they naturally and reasonably warm to such a man. Again, however, we have something added to sincerity, for a man may be sincere and still be misled. But Theodore Roosevelt is not a theorist or a visionary. His aims are lofty, he has high ideals, but he lives as far from cloudland as any man that has ever been in public life.

This suggests another quality that makes Theodore Roosevelt a rare man. For ages there has been a perceptible distinction between the thinker and the doer. Plato and Socrates were thinkers and the world has their thought today; but Pericles both thought and did things, and however we may revel in the sublime realms of Plato and Socrates, it was Pericles who contributed to the glory of Athens that which chiefly appeals to us today.

We suspect that a Bismarck appeals more to the average human being than a Gladstone, the one was a man of deeds, the other an orator. But Theodore Roosevelt combines the two qualities, that of the thinker as well as that of the man of action. He writes an essay on "American Ideals" in which he treats of the things vital to a great republic. Here he is the thinker; but civilization has been waiting for a century for the Panama canal, and he makes that great world highway a possibility. Thomas Jefferson wrote well and reasoned about the rights of man, and set down abstractions with a wonderful clearness, but he bought Louisiana Territory, and he will be remembered in history chiefly because of this one thing that he did in opposition to the theories set down in his abstractions. This suggests another distinguishing trait in Theodore Roosevelt, because he is not required to visualize his ideas in order to record achievements. His public acts are in accordance with his published principles and the country approves and applauds because the people feel that both his theories and his deeds will withstand the test of actual experience.

This is why Chairman Root was able to add the third element in the sentence quoted at the beginning of this article—"with him this convention agrees because every word has been sound Republican doctrine."

And this suggests a striking analogy between the life of this man and the life of this party that has just placed him in nomination for an office the highest that the world has to bestow. The Republican party came into existence half a century ago because the times then demanded a party not only with high ideals, but also with the ability to accomplish what it set out to do. There were other parties then animated by the sublimest of purposes, but their methods were impracticable. Out of these conditions sprang this party, not only moved by the loftiest spirit, but also with a genius for management. It began at once to record achievements. And so this man began at the outset to do as well as to dream. To this day he has been a man of deeds as well as words and that is why he was long ago nominated by the people; it is the reason this nomination was ratified at Chicago the other day, and it is the one thing most of all that will cause the people to approve both the nomination and the ratification at the polls next November.

Had William J. Bryan been elected president, even the men who today are reorganizers would have looked upon him as a great leader, yet everybody knows that his election was made an impossibility by the administration of Grover Cleveland.

NAVAL ACTIVITY

Japs Apparently Giving a Good Account of Themselves Off Port Arthur.

GENERAL SHORE ACTION

Firing From the Squadron In Waiting Receives a Fierce Return From the Land Batteries.

Chee Foo Reports Contain Information of a Long Continued and Hot Engagement.

Tokio, June 25.—It is reported that the Port Arthur fleet came out of the harbor Thursday and engaged the Japanese fleet.

Tokio, June 25.—Admiral Togo reports an engagement at Port Arthur last Thursday in which a battleship of the Porosviet type was sunk and a battleship of the Sevastopol type and a first class cruiser of the Diana type were damaged. The Japanese fleet was practically undamaged.

Chefoo, June 25.—Another demonstration took place off Port Arthur yesterday. Firing began from the forts about 10 a. m. and continued until 1 p. m. The program was about the same as on the previous day. The destroyers and torpedo boats pursued the same tactics and an auxiliary cruiser lay off the islands until the firing had ceased, when it proceeded eastward at full speed.

At 8:30 the same evening firing began heavily from the bluff with much activity of the search-lights, indicating the approach of torpedo craft. A little later the sound of more distant firing was heard, evidently from the land side of Port Arthur, continuing until 2:30 this morning with a brief renewal at 5 a. m.

During that period there was an almost uninterrupted thunder as of field guns and volley firing, punctuated with crashes as of siege guns. It is probable that what took place was a general shore action with a naval demonstration. It seems as though the Japanese intend to wear out the defenders by continued night activity before making a final simultaneous sea and land attack.

JOINED FORCES

It is Reported That Generals Oku and Kuroki Have Combined.

Liao Yang, June 25.—It is reported that Generals Oku and Kuroki have joined forces and are attacking from the direction of Vafangow. There is talk of a serious engagement shortly. It is also rumored that the Japanese forces which were recently advancing in this direction have fallen back on Feng Wang Cheng.

The state of tension existing may be illustrated by the fact that the value of the rouble fell mysteriously at the Russo-Chinese bank. At first this was thought to be the effect of the result of the battle of Vafangow, but it was discovered later that Chinese from Port Arthur had declared that the fortress had been evacuated and that all of the troops had sailed off on a number of British vessels. The value of the rouble has now returned to the normal.

It is reported from Yin Kow that the Japanese are recruiting a number of Chinese bandits and are paying them good wages.

Cabinet Vacancies Filled.

Washington, June 25.—The president has announced the following cabinet appointments: Wm. H. Moody of Massachusetts, attorney general; Paul Morton of Illinois, secretary of the navy; Victor H. Metcalf of California, secretary of commerce and labor. The resignations of Attorney General Knox and Secretary of Commerce and Labor Cortelyou have been accepted to take effect July 1.

Disaster at Russian Ferry.

St. Petersburg, June 25.—The Rostoffo ferryboat, while crossing the Khoper river (a tributary of the Don) sank with all on board. Sixty bodies have been recovered and 160 persons are missing.

SUMMER COLDS

Produce Chronic Catarrh.

Madame Isabella Ellen Baveas.

Madame Isabella Ellen Baveas, Life Governor Grand Lodge of Free Masons of England, in a letter from Hotel Saratoga, Chicago, Ill., says:

"This summer while traveling I contracted a most persistent and annoying cold. My head ached, my eyes and nose seemed constantly running, my lungs were sore and I lost my appetite, health and good spirits. Doctors prescribed for me all manner of pills and powders, but all to no purpose.

"I advised with a druggist and he spoke so highly of a medicine called Peruna, that he induced me to try my first bottle of patent medicine. However, it proved such a help to me that I soon purchased another bottle and kept on until I was entirely well."—Madame Isabella Ellen Baveas.

Summer colds require prompt treatment. They are always grave, and sometimes dangerous. The promptness and surety with which Peruna acts in these cases has saved many lives. A large dose of Peruna should be taken at the first appearance of a cold in summer, followed by small and oft-repeated doses. There is no other remedy that medical science can furnish, so reliable and quick in its action as Peruna. Address The Peruna Medicine Company, Columbus, Ohio, for a free book entitled "Summer Catarrh," which treats of the catarrhal diseases peculiar to summer.

Will Open Campaign Aug. 1.

Chicago, June 25.—Secretary Dover of the national committee, after an hour's conference with Chairman Cortelyou at the Auditorium Annex, announced that the Republican campaign would be formally opened Aug. 1. Chairman Cortelyou and Secretary Dover left for the East today. It is regarded as certain that Harry S. New, national committeeman from Indiana, and Secretary Dover will be in charge of Chicago headquarters and that Chairman Cortelyou will devote much of his time to the New York branch. Mr. Cortelyou said he would not appoint his executive committee of nine for two weeks and he would not talk politics for publication until after July 1, when it is expected he will be relieved of his duties as secretary of the department of commerce and labor.

Captain Quelled the Riot.

Evansville, Ind., June 25.—A riot on the steamer D. A. Nisbet, below this city, came near terminating seriously. Nearly a hundred negro excursionists on the boat threatened the life of Sam Watson, a well-known colored politician, and chased him over the boat, beating him with clubs and beer glasses. Finally one of the negroes suggested that Watson be thrown overboard, when Captain Sam Hornbrook went to his cabin and got a Winchester rifle and quelled the mob. Watson rushed to Hornbrook's side as the latter raised his gun to shoot into the crowd. No arrests have yet been made.

OSTRICH LOGIC.

"When I can't see danger there is no danger." That's the logic of the ostrich which hides its head and exposes its body to the hunter. There are not a few people who seem to have gone to the ostrich to learn logic. The most dangerous enemies of humanity are the enemies which can't be seen, the disease breeding microbes which infect the blood. It is harder to get the microbe out of the blood than to keep it out, but Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery does both, by purifying the blood and then keeping it pure.

If there are eruptions on the skin, boils, pimples, sores or other signs of impure blood, use Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which will purify the blood and cure the eruptions which come from it.

"My blood was all out of order, and I had to go to the doctor," writes Mrs. James R. Moss, New London, Stanley Co., N.C. "He gave me medicine which helped me for a short time. In the winter of 1895 I got worse than I had ever been. My tonsils were enlarged and my neck swollen all out of shape; my throat was sore and I could not cure it. My husband went for the doctor, but he gave me no encouragement. He helped me a little, but it did not last long. He attended me for twelve months, when I heard of a lady whose condition was like mine, who was taking your medicine and was getting well. So I secured some of the medicine and began taking it. In one week I was able to do my cooking. When I began taking the medicine I could sit up only a few minutes at a time, and I could rest or sleep only a little while at a time. My throat was so sore at times I could not even swallow sweet milk, and my tonsils were full of little eating sores. My left side was swollen out of shape and I could hardly get my breath. The doctor said I would not get well, but three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, three bottles of his 'Pellets' (three bottles of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy) and the use of salt water to the mouth and cured me."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation and its consequences.

A DISPATCH from Wabash says that Warren G. Sayre may become a candidate for United States senator.

Now just suppose that the democrats and prohibitionists would fuse and nominate General Miles for president. Wouldn't that be an odd combination?

The Chicago convention was harmonious because the republican party is united throughout the country. The republicans everywhere are for Roosevelt and Fairbanks.

SENATOR FAIRBANKS, the nominee for vice president, will be tendered a great reception on his return from Chicago to Indianapolis this evening. The reception will be non-partisan and speeches will be made by Mayor Holtzman, John L. Griffiths, Senator Beveridge and John W. Kern. The nomination of Senator Fairbanks is an honor to Indiana and the people all congratulate him.

ROOSEVELT and Fairbanks! Here is a ticket chosen not as the result of political machinations, but as an inevitable deduction from the logic of events; chosen not after long contention, but by unanimous consent. With a platform setting forth the historic principles of republicanism and with a leadership typifying the party's best traditions, against an opposition discordant and purposeless, the republican party was never more deserving of victory than now, and never did the country stand in greater need of its wise and patriotic policies in action.

THE Nebraska describes Judge Parker as a "speechless candidate" on a "meaningless platform." Mr. Bryan should remember that money talks, and, according to the testimony of his own followers, August Belmont & Co. are managing the Parker campaign and August Belmont & Co. represent hundreds of millions of dollars, not only in this country but in Europe also. And as to the meaningless, he knows very well that if the reorganizers succeed it means the annihilation of Bryan and all his followers, so far as the Democratic party is concerned.

THE Boston Herald says a little reflection has brought the democracy to realize that not all the protectionists are in the republican party. This is true. Many a democrat has seen the efficacy of protection demonstrated time and again until he has come to see that, after all, it is the desirable policy for this country to maintain. Still, the leaders who will control the course of the democratic party are most of them committed to the very opposite tariff theory, and if we are to have any assurance of maintaining the tariff protective policy, the only way is to keep in power the party that established it as the policy of the government in opposition to the determined resistance of the democratic leaders.

WHEAT HARVEST
Will be on in Earnest Next Week.
Wheat harvest in Jackson county will be in full blast the first next week. Already a few binders have been started, but most of the farmers will not begin their harvesting for two or three days yet. A large part of the crop in the county will be in the shock by the end of another week.
The wheat crop in this part of the state is decidedly better than was anticipated two months ago. In fact Jackson county will harvest a good crop of wheat this year and indications are that a fair price will be paid for it.

Dangerously Sick.
A son of James Smith, who resides in the Third ward, was sent on an errand this morning to the Sucker Rod Factory, but before he got there he became unconscious and fell. He was found there a little later, still unconscious and in convulsions. Dr. Shields was called and found the boy in a critical condition, but after administering to him he got better and was taken home. The boy is about twelve years of age.

Funeral of H. A. Page.
The funeral of Harvey A. Page will be from the residence of Ed Rinne, No. 6 South Poplar street, Sunday afternoon beginning promptly at 1:45. Services will be conducted by Rev. J. A. Sargent and Rev. C. E. Severinghaus. Burial at Riverview.

Mrs. H. C. Johnson returned from Jeffersonville this afternoon.
George Kasting, rural mail carrier on Route No. 3, went to North Vernon this afternoon to remain over Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Brockmire.

The remains of the late Harvey A. Page were brought here from Indianapolis at 10:06 this forenoon and taken to the home of Ed Rinne on South Poplar street.

An exciting feature of this show was the voting contest for a prize of a silk dress, et al, for the most popular lady. Several names were entered, the winner being Miss Nellie Holmes. Misses Hazel Turner and Mabel Smith were very close rivals.

Mrs. Ken Holmes and sons, of Indianapolis, are visiting here this week.

Facts About the Bible.
The first books of the O. T. were originally written in the old Hebrew, which was the language of the Israelites, Phoenicians and Canaanites. After the captivity, they spoke Hebrew Aramaic, this was their language at the time of Christ. In this language the Old Testament was written probably by Ezra and other scribes. The Gospel of Matthew was probably first written in this tongue. All the other books of the New Testament were written in Hellenistic Greek.

We have spoken of the age of the MSS. and noticed their agreement with our English Bible. We now give the method of establishing the dates. All the MSS. do not have the dates attached. This is true of some of the oldest MSS.

The Alexandrian MSS. now in British Museum was presented to Charles first, by Cyril, Lucar, Patriarch of Constantinople. Inscribed upon it in Arabic is a statement, saying: "It was written by Thecla, an Egyptian princess, who lived a short time after the council of Nice, A. D. 325."

Some MSS. are written on skins, dyed red or yellow; some on parchment, some on papyrus, some times tables of wood or stone, called calcides, or codices, from which we call a MS. codex, and from which we get our word code.

The earliest specimens of Greek writing was found in the ruins of Pompeii and Herculaneum, which were destroyed by the eruption of Mt. Vesuvius A. D. 79. The writing was all capitals, or what are called uncials; without punctuation, accentuation, or division of words or sentences.

In the library of Vienna, there is a book by Dioscorides, made for the daughter of one of the early emperors of Constantinople in the fifth century, and the letters are the same as the MSS. found in Herculaneum.

To be continued,

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets Better than any Doctor's Prescription.

Mr. J. W. Turner, of Trubart, Va., says that Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets have done him more good than anything he could get from the doctor. If any physician in this county was able to compound a medicine that would produce such gratifying results in cases of stomach trouble, biliousness or constipation, his whole time would be used in preparing this one medicine. For sale by C. W. Milhous.

Detroit Man Attempts Murder and Leaps From High Window.

Detroit, Mich., June 25.—A small private office in a suite on the eleventh floor of the chamber of commerce building at the corner of Griswold and State streets was the scene of a most thrilling tragedy, when Charles A. Swayze, an insurance agent, fought with Miss Effie Alvord for several minutes in an attempt to throw her out of the window, then shot her twice and plunged himself from the window to the brick pavement of State street, being almost instantly killed. Miss Alvord was shot twice in the neck and badly beaten about the head and face by Swayze, but her physician said that she is not dangerously hurt. Every bone in Swayze's body below his neck was broken by his fall of 165 feet. Back of the tragedy lies a tale of intimacy between Miss Alvord and Swayze, who was fifty-one years of age, married and the father of two young daughters.

Jury Was Discharged.

A TREATY FARM IN INDIANA

Gives to the Red Cross and Forever Exempt From War.

In a beautiful and romantic location four miles south of the city of Bedford, there is a tract of 782 acres that is the only piece of neutral ground on the American continent, or, more properly, the Western hemisphere. It is protected by international treaty against the tread of hostile feet. It is a perpetual sanctuary against the invading armies of forty-two nations under the sacred treaty of Geneva.

Dr. Joseph Gardner, of Bedford, gave the tract of land to Clara Barton for the Red Cross. The gift was accepted by Miss Barton in the name of the Red Cross Society of the world, and immediate steps were taken to secure the passage of proper laws by congress to secure the magnificent gift forever to the uses and purposes desired by the donor and Miss Barton.

Forty-one nations besides the United States joined in ratifying the terms of the treaty at Geneva, which establishes the tract as exempt from war and secures the institutions to be founded there from any form of invasion whatever. In return for this international action the Red Cross, true to its purpose, will prepare the place for such possible emergencies as may arise in the future of nations.

In giving the tract to the Red Cross Dr. Gardner suggested that it would make an admirable location for the American storehouses, invalid homes, hospitals and nurse school supply depot of the Red Cross in this country. This suggestion has been approved by the Red Cross officials.

The tract will contain many buildings when the plans are fully carried out; for, besides the hospitals, cottage homes for nurses and store houses, there will be a fireproof building, in which will be stored all the trophies, keepsakes and souvenirs presented to the Red Cross in all parts of the world.

RAILROAD RUMBLINGS

John Ball, a B. & O. S-W. brakeman had his arm badly hurt at Mitchell, Tuesday, while making a coupling in the yards.

Paul Simpson, a B. & O. S-W. telegraph operator, at Vincennes and Miss Maude Jordan were married at Vincennes yesterday.

Conductor Lockwood, in charge of trains 1 and 4 on the S. L., is taking a lay off to attend the World's Fair. Conductor Charles Wilson of No. 3 is filling his place, and Fred Hatfield is in charge of 3 and 6.

Wins Trip to World's Fair.

Charles Pfaffenberger, son of Rev. E. W. Pfaffenberger, of Boonville, Mo., and a grandson of George Pfaffenberger, who resides four miles southwest of Seymour, gets to take a free trip to the World's Fair. One of the concession and amusement companies on the Pike offered as a prize for the best essay on "The Creation of the World" a two week's trip to the World's Fair with all expenses paid. Charles, who is a pupil in the public schools won first prize and will see the exposition. His essay is a very creditable one and is published in full in his father's paper, The Western Christian Union.

Hindustan Falls Again.

Jerome Herff and Joseph Bergman, of Peru, officials of the Indiana Hydraulic Company, accompanied by Expert Lyman J. Cooley, one of the greatest hydraulic experts in the United States and civil engineer of the Chicago drainage canal, were at Hindustan falls Thursday making preliminary arrangements for the construction of dams.

The construction of these dams means the building of a traction line from Vincennes, through Washington, to Shoals, and from West Baden via Shoals to Indian Springs or Bedford.—Washington Democrat.

Death Roll of Senators.

The death of State Senator Gray, of Evansville, makes the passing away of the seventh State Senator in the last eighteen months. The first was Senator Binkley, of Richmond; then his successor, Senator Starr, of Richmond; then Senator Burns, of South Bend; Senator Dehaven, of Kokomo; Senator Gibson, of Crawford county; Senator Lawler, of Salem. All were Republicans except Senator Gray.

Thrown from a Wagon.

Mr. George K. Babcock was thrown from his wagon and severely bruised. He applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely and says it is the best liniment he ever used. Mr. Babcock is a well known citizen of North Plain, Conn. There is nothing equal to Pain Balm for sprains and bruises. It will effect a cure in one third the time required by any other treatment. For sale by C. W. Milhous.

It is rumored today that there will be a wedding on east Second street tomorrow and the rumor is believed by a good many people.

WANTED—People to phone 71 for sherbet or ice cream at Hoover's.

Easy Victims.

The news reports a few days ago told of a man who had saved $300 in the last year for his wedding. He put his money in his pocket and took his lady love to shoot the chutes, where he lost his money. He will wait another year for his wedding. In Indiana, another man drew $1,000, all of his savings, out of a bank and started west to go into business. His money was also stolen and he will go back to day labor. Here were two cases of ignorance or neglect of the uses of banks. The one man by keeping a bank account and the other by using drafts, would have saved the money instead of contributing it to thieves. There is still an unaccountable prejudice against banks with some, and also ignorance of very simple facts about checks and money orders. It is remarkable how unneringly the thief and confidence man can pick out his easy victims.—Terre Haute Tribune.

out of shape—never weak nor wobbly—never creek nor squeak. Victor No. 1 are built to wear. Some springs are just built to sell.

Each one of wire has its individual point of support on a patented cross-wire foundation. The smaller end of the spiral being rigidly connected to two cross-wires in such a manner that the coil cannot be depressed below these supports, or twisted to one side or the other.

This insures a uniform level mattress surface. Also, as the separate springs cannot touch each other or the various coils of each spring rub together when compressed, there is absolute freedom from noise.

Do not buy any other springs until you see these, and do not buy these until you find that they are all we say. Guaranteed for five full years.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

There is comfort in the knowledge as often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and causing pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Home of Swamp-Root, Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, remember the name, Swamp-Root. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

RAISULI GAVE UP

Morocco Bandit Relinquishes His Captives On Payment of Ransom.

ARRIVAL AT TANGIER

Pardicaris and Varley Reached Home Showing No Ill Effect of Their Trying Experience.

Warm Reception Awaited Them Upon Their Return From the Bandit's Camp.

Tangier, June 25.—Jon Pardicaris and Cromwell Varley, who were captured by the bandit Raisuli, have just arrived here. Pardicaris is very much fatigued after his long ride, but says he is glad to get back. He is greatly pleased with the reception accorded him by his townsmen, who met him in great numbers.

Pardicaris suffered many hardships while in the hands of Raisuli, although he says he does not think that these were the fault of the bandit chief and that he had every comfort possible under the circumstances. Varley appears to be as cheerful and bright as if he had just returned from a picnic.

CROMWELL VARLEY.

Both Pardicaris and Varley are much thinner and have aged considerably. They were received by numerous personal friends. Pardicaris' Moorish servants made a great demonstration of joy, kissing their master's hands and clothes.

Much credit is due to the two sheriffs of Wasan, Mulai Ali and Mulai Hamet, who have devoted much time in their efforts to secure the success of the negotiations. Mulai Ali remained at Raisuli's camp continuously, thus ensuring the safety of the captives, while Mulai Hamet traveled back and forth between Tangier and Benaires. Mulai Hamet says he arrived at the camp of Zela, governor of the Beni M'ara tribe, at 3 o'clock on June 23, but that the captives did not arrive until the morning of June 24.

Nothing unusual occurred during the exchange of the prisoners, who started immediately for their respective homes. The delay in turning over the prisoners was apparently merely a mistake as to the date set for their release.

A Good Time Promised.

Kiel, Prussia, June 25.—Preparations in progress for the reception of King Edward indicate that he will be given a more magnificent welcome than was ever witnessed in Kiel waters. The German imperial yacht Hohenzollern will present the appearance of a tropical garden and will be entirely covered by an awning.

Johnston, a lawyer, have been sentenced to imprisonment for one year at hard labor for conspiracy to defraud the territory through the collection of fraudulent vouchers for expenses incurred by the house of representatives.

AN AMPLE APOLOGY

Will Probably Close Recent Sensational Haytian Incident.

Paris, June 25.—Following a council of ministers it was officially announced that the government intended to send a warship to Hayti to demand redress for the insult to M. Deprez, the French minister, who was stored by the palace guards on Wednesday. This decision followed Foreign Minister Delcasse's presentation of the circumstances of the assault to the council. However, the officials do not attach undue seriousness to the affair, particularly, as has been noted, Germany has shown a purpose of acting energetically. The nature of the redress which the warship will demand is not yet announced. The question of asking for an indemnity has been considered, but it has not been decided whether this will be required, in addition to a most ample apology. One of the ships of the French squadron in West Indian waters will be designated to make the demand. The Haytian legation here seeks to minimize the affair, which it attributes to a few disorderly soldiers.

The German embassy has not yet been informed of the intentions of Germany in regard to the stoning of the minister of that country.

Starts on Another Investigation.

Washington, June 25.—Having concluded his investigation of the effects of chemical preservatives in various food products, Prof. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry of the department of agriculture, will now investigate methods of preservation through the medium of cold storage or sterilization. It is Dr. Wiley's theory that certain classes of food deteriorate after being preserved for a certain length of time.

Victory Over Insurgents.

Montevideo, Uruguay, June 25.—The government has received information that victory over the insurgents has been won by Colonel Galarza in command of the government troops at Cerro Largo (205 miles from Montevideo). The fighting continued for a day and a half. Six hundred of the insurgents were killed or wounded and the government cavalry pursued the defeated army.

Highwaymen Captured.

Kingston, N. Y., June 25.—Two of the four Italian highwaymen who robbed Orson C. Longyear, paymaster of the Hudson River Bluestone company, of $2,700 Thursday, were captured at Lamontville. In their boots were over $1,300.

TERSE TELEGRAMS

Eastern reports show manufacturing is rather quiet. Business failures for the week number 211, against 181 last week and 171 in the like week in 1903.

Mrs. May Sutton, of California, defeated Miss Romney of New York, in the women's championship tennis tournament.

This week's number of the New Voice, the prohibition paper, advocates the nomination of General Miles for president.

James Lukins, aged 25, married, with one child and Vance Hawkins, unmarried, were drowned in the river near Petersburg, Va.

The czar has ordered the investigation into the murder of Gen. Bobikoff, late Governor Gen. of Finland, taken out of the hands of the Finnish courts and entrusted to the prosecutor of the St. Petersburg tribunal.

Mystery attaches to the disappearance of Kent J. Leomin, who while enroute to Abyssinia on a mission for the American state department, disappeared as his steamer landed at Plymouth and has not since been heard of.

After shooting, but not fatally wounding the sheriff, a slingshotter who had rejected his suit, Charles Swayer, an insurance agent, leaped from a window in the eleventh story of the Chamber of Commerce building, at Detroit, and was dashed to pieces.

Triumph of Modern Surgery.

Wonderful things are done for the human body by surgery. Organs are taken out and scraped and polished and put back, or they may be removed entirely; bones are spliced; pipes take the place of diseased sections of veins; antiseptic dressings are applied to wounds, bruises, burns and like injuries before inflammation sets in, which causes them to heal without maturation and in one-third the time required by the old treatment. Chamberlain's Pain Balm acts on this same principle. It is an antiseptic and when applied to such injuries, causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and soothes the nerves; it will save you time and money, not to mention the inconvenience and suffering with injuries entail. For sale by C. Manous.

Makes young again the aged and infirm. The electric spark goes through every part of your body, bringing new life, hope and ambition. That's what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea does. 35 cents, tea or tablets. W. F. Peter Drug Co.

ACTION IS NEEDED

Importance of a Hospital For Consumptives Again Emphasized.

SAVING TO THE STATE

An Economic Measure Alone the Proposition Is Worth of Urgent Consideration.

The Humanitarian Aspect of the Matter Is One That Must Appeal to Everyone.

Indianapolis, June 25.—That further delay in establishing a state hospital for the care of consumption is a serious mistake, is the assertion made by members of the health officers' school in session here.

They say in their resolution to the legislature recommending that such a hospital be established, that consumption kills 4,700 annually in Indiana; invades 1,500 homes; makes 1,000 widows and 2,000 orphans, and costs $5,000,000, besides aiding in making criminals and paupers. In a strong plea it is asserted that the disease is absolutely preventable and curable.

BETTER BANKING LAWS

Northern Indiana People Will Make Plea for Protection.

Mishawaka, Ind., June 25.—As a result of a half dozen bank failures in this section within the last eight months the people of northern Indiana will ask from the next legislature the most stringent bank law that can be enacted. Prospective candidates for legislative positions will be asked to pledge themselves on this subject before being given the nomination or support at the polls. The loss by bank failures to business men and farmers in the northern tier of counties within three years will total millions. A few national banks have failed, but private and state banks are the ones that have made the "easy" money. The numerous bank failures have resulted in several convictions and sentences to federal prison, but a system that will minimize the chances for speculation is what is desired.

Lost Heavily by Bank Failure.

St. Paul, Indiana, June 25.—Abner Baily, aged fifty, a contractor and one of the most prominent citizens of St. Paul, killed himself by firing a bullet into his heart. Baily was a man of considerable wealth and was a heavy stockholder in the Citizens bank of St. Paul, which went into bankruptcy last week as a result of the failure of the Gilman bank at Goodland. Baily is said to have lost heavily by the failure and had worried considerably since the bank closed. It is believed that while suffering great mental distress he decided to end all by killing himself.

Creditors Seeking Relief.

Indianapolis, June 25.—A petition was filed in the federal court by prominent merchants of Goodland in which the court was asked to declare Frederick D. Gilman of Goodland a bankrupt. The signers of the petition state that they are creditors of Gilman to the extent of $8,000, and that Gilman committed an act of bankruptcy, secretly abandoned his business and absconded, and has remained secreted ever since.

Troubles Never Come Singly.

Fowler, Ind., June 25.—George Mitten of Wadena states that he will turn over his large store and all of his property to his creditors. He said that he lost $11,000 by fire over and above his insurance, and $10,200 in the Gilman bank failure. These losses occurred so closely together as to render his further continuance in business impossible.

The Deadly Live Wire.

Kokomo, Ind., June 25.—Frank Valentine, aged forty-five, an employee of the Indianapolis Northern Traction company, was instantly killed at the power house by grasping a live wire. W. K. Stacey, an operator, was so badly shocked that he is not expected to live. Valentine lives at Muncie, where he has a wife and child. Stacey's home is at Indianapolis.

Miners Ordered Out.

Vincennes, Ind., June 25.—Because Henry W. Sell, owner of the Sugar Loaf coal mine, refused to treat with District President Boyle of the United Mine Workers concerning grievances of the miners, the men were ordered to strike. President Boyle said that the men would remain out until an agreement was reached.

Incendiarism Suspected.

Shelbyville, Ind., June 25.—The home of Mrs. Flora Dowden caught fire and before the fire department arrived the house was entirely consumed. All the furniture and clothing were burned, causing a loss of $2,000 with but $500 insurance. It is believed the house was set on fire.

Michigan City, Ind., June 25.—Boys playing with firecrackers started a blaze which destroyed the barns owned by Joseph Bates, Mrs. Henry Jenez and Mrs. A. Long, together with the homes of the Bates and Long families, entailing a collective loss of $12,000, with limited insurance.

DEPENDS ON WEATHER

Bradstreet Report Accounts for Dullness in Trade.

New York, June 25.—Bradstreet's weekly review of trade today says: There has been some enlargement in demand at the West this week, but the betterment as yet is largely one of tone and is predicated upon the unquestionably better crop advices received from nearly all sections. Reports from the leading industries are not significant of any particular reaction from the dullness noted heretofore. The iron trade appears to be grounding upon the bottom as regards prices, and curtailment is becoming widespread. From the leading textile industries the story is one of almost midsummer dullness and of a waiting disposition upon the part of manufacturers. Prices generally, except cotton and textiles, show few important changes and really evince considerable steadiness. Railway earnings for the elapsed portion of June promise to make rather more favorable comparisons than the early spring months, while bank clearings betray irregularity, coincident with varying influences affecting bank operations at different centers, and are below last week and last year. No particular improvement in collections is yet to be seen, and a long spell of warm weather is still regarded as necessary if retail trade in seasonable goods is to be stimulated.

Andrew Humphreys Dead.

Linton, Ind., June 25.—Andrew Humphreys, eighty-three years old, one of the most prominent Democrats of southern Indiana, died at his home here yesterday of general debility. Mr. Humphreys was a native of Tennessee and served for many years in the Indiana legislature as representative and senator, at the time of his death being the oldest living member of the state legislative body. Mr. Humphreys had voted for every Democratic presidential candidate since and including 1844. He served in the Forty-fourth congress, which decided the Hayes-Tilden controversy. He was appointed Indian agent for the department of Utah by President Buchanan in 1858 and served until 1871.

Thousands of Salvationists Meet.

London, June 25.—The third international congress of the Salvation Army opened last night with a meeting in Albert hall, which was attended by over 5,000 delegates representing forty-nine countries in all parts of the globe. General Booth presided and welcomed the delegates in an extended address.

Mrs. Roosevelt at Oyster Bay.

Oyster Bay, L. I., June 25.—Mrs. Roosevelt reached this village last night. When the president arrives a week from today he will be tendered at least three receptions, possibly four, by the Republicans, the citizens in general, the high school pupils and the pupils of the Cove public school.

Havana, June 25.—In response to the urging of President Palma, congressmen will begin an effort to settle the deadlock in the house of representatives by arbitration. The moderates suggest that the supreme court judges act as arbitrators, but the radicals prefer other persons.

Philadelphia, June 25.—Peter Maher was last night knocked out in one minute and forty-seven seconds by "Jack" Williams of this city, at the Manhattan Athletic club. The men were to have fought six rounds.
